Allied PhotoChemical introduces “Sustainable UV™” initiative to increase Industry awareness

Allied leads industry in empowering customers to implement Sustainable UV Coating Solutions.

MARYSVILLE, Mi – December 1, 2008 - Allied PhotoChemical, a leading manufacturer of UV Paint and Coatings Solutions, announced today it's “Sustainable UV™” initiative.

“The Sustainable UV initiative provides manufacturing customers with a coating technology that delivers significant environmental and economic savings, says Michael Kelly – CEO/President.”

“Sustainable UV delivers the following characteristics:

- Ability to conserve natural resources
- Saves energy or water
- Avoids toxic or other emissions
- Contributes to safe, healthy environment”

“For UV is not only a “sustainable” technology, it is also, and more importantly, an economical solution, critical for US manufacturers today.”
